

The Esocid Technical Committee is seeking applications for a student travel grant: the Esocid Award

Purpose: To financially assist one or more students conducting research of interest to the Esocid Technical Committee (ETC).

Description: A travel grant of at least $500 (up to $1000) from the ETC of the North Central Division of the American Fisheries Society for up to two students to attend the Midwest Fish and Wildlife Conference or the American Fisheries Society Annual Meeting.

Eligibility Criteria: The recipient(s) of this award must be currently enrolled in a college or university for an undergraduate or graduate degree program. Preference will be given to those involved in research of interest to the ETC.

Documentation required: An application letter that includes: student's name, email address, physical address, telephone number, educational institution, department, degree level, a short description of current research, reasons for wishing to attend the meeting (paper or poster presentation, pertinent paper session, sub-unit business and/or technical meetings), and reasons why financial assistance is needed.

Selection Criteria: The Executive Committee of the ETC will evaluate applicants based on the following criteria:

- a. AFS involvement (reasons for attending the meeting).
- b. Relevance of research to the goals of the ETC.
- c. Number of applications and current funding levels.

Frequency of Award: The ETC will select up to two recipients annually. All awards will be at the ETC's discretion.

Deadline: The deadline for receipt of completed applications by the ETC Scholarship Chair is January 1 (annually) for the Midwest F & W Conference (or other conferences not specifically mentioned) and June 1 (annually) for the American Fisheries Society Annual Meeting (or other conferences not specifically mentioned).
